DEWEY

Learning looks a heckuva lot different than it used to. Today's learners Just Say No to boring rows of desks and instructors who blather on for hours. Instead, they thrive in flexible spaces that are collaborative, project-driven, tech-savvy, work-ready, and always up for what's next—just like Dewey.

---

CONFIGURATIONS

Flexibility is Dewey's middle name (well, not officially, of course). Designed to be in the moment but always have an eye for the future, Dewey is a cinch to move, arrange, and rearrange for any setting or group dynamic.

DEWEY

TEAMWORK = DREAMWORK

Whether they're killing it at a university hackathon or showing a project brief who's boss, teams need collaborative setups that allow them to get together, get creative, and get 'er done. Dewey is both dynamic and durable.

TEACHER'S PET

Even the most capable crew needs someone to steer the ship—and that someone needs the right tools to help them perform like a pro. Dewey's Helpdesks and Lecterns check all the boxes: they're tech-savvy, storage-smart, and ready to roll.

GO SOLO

Sometimes “solo” is the best way to go. With a number of accessories at the ready, Dewey supports heads down, focused work, whether at the office or in a testing space.

DOUBLE DUTY

Why settle for just one purpose in life when you can crush several simultaneously? Dewey's ultra-flexible, ultra-collaborative statement of line includes bookshelves that serve double-duty as space dividers, technology carts that both display and store equipment, and mobile whiteboards that track ideas in one space, then roll with you to the next.
